HORSES AND HORSEMEN

Woodmonde and Hattondale Farms, Where Burlington Lives.

J. B. Lane, of Lane Brothers, railroad contractors, Esmond, Va., has purchased of Catesby Woodford, Paris, Ky., the former well-known race horse Burlington, by Powhatan, dam Invercauld, by St. Albans.

Mr. Lane owns the fine estates in Albemarle county known as Woodmonde and Hattondale Farms and will place Burlington at the head of his stud, which includes a band of choice thoroughbred mares. The black son of Powhatan is a horse of fine size and pronounced individuality, and will be used as sire of thoroughbreds, steeplechasers and hunters at Woodmonde. As an owner of steeplechasers, Mr. Lane has met with success, having among other good horses the good winner of several seasons past, Imperialist, son of Norwood and Gemina.

Lady Thelma, the handsome chestnut mare by Clement R., bred and owned by L. G. Roper, the big lumber merchant, of Roper, N. C., made a new record at the recent Philadelphia meeting, where, driven by James H. Morrow, of Washington, she trotted a heat in 2:18 1/4 and clipped a couple of seconds from her mark of 2:20 1/4 made in 1902. Lady Thelma's sire, Clement R., is a son of Mambrino Dudley, while her dam is Sue Norfolk, a great brood mare, by Norfolk, 350, the sire of Miss Nelson, 2:11 1/4. Sue Norfolk is owned by Mr. Roper and she figures as the dam of Lady Thelma, 2:18 1/4; Foxhall, 2:19 3/4; and Sunol Stakes, 2:21 1/4, and others of her produce are coming on yet. As stated Lady Thelma was sired by Clement R., but Foxhall and Sunol Stakes are by Great Stakes, 2:20, sire of Virginia, 2:21 1/4, a new one of the standard performers of this season.

Among the trotters in the stable of Arthur Nitz, Esmond, Va., are Fred, 2:17, by Sam Holt; Sam Holt, 2:20, by Lee Cuyler, dam by Walker Morrill; Nathaniel Prince, a three year old gelding, by Sidney Prince, son of Sidney, 2:19 3/4; Orphan Girl, 4, by Bursar, 2:17 1/4, and some promising youngsters. Sam Holt is expected to beat 2:15 over a half-mile track this season. The Nathaniel Prince has shown miles better than 2:25 in his work. Orphan Girl has worked an easy mile in 2:20 with quarters better than 35 seconds. Nitz will campaign these horses through the Maryland and Virginia circuit of fairs and race meetings and expects to win a share of the purses offered for trotters.

Kelly Jewett, 2:25, the bay mare by Jerome 1209, 2:16 1/4, dam Little Nelly, 2:20, by Green's Hambletonian, formerly owned by Capt. B. F. Williamson, of Raleigh; L. Banks Holt, of Graham, and other North Carolina horsemen, and raced on the half-mile tracks in that State, is now the property of William J. Shelburne, Riner, Va., who has her in the stud.

The chestnut horse Buncock, thoroughbred son of Orango and imported Slater Louie, by Transat, owned by J. Jenkins Davies, of Manassas, Va., has been well patronized this season, and some of the best mares in that section have been mated with the handsome chestnut stallion. Mr. Davies is well-known as secretary of the Manassas Horse Show, and with its affairs directed by his hand this association is now recognized as one of the most important and successful open air affairs of the kind in the country.

President J. T. Anderson, of the Richmond Horse Show Association, sailed recently for Europe, and while there will attend the Dublin Horse Show, probably the most noted, as well as the most successful, affair of its kind in existence. Doubtless Mr. Anderson will grasp the fact that will serve him well as the head of the Richmond Horse Show, which is an organization that may be pointed to with pride throughout all Virginia.

Lillian S., the chestnut mare, who won her first race of the season at Baltimore and reduced her record from 2:15 1/4 to 2:13 1/4, is seven years old, and was bred by the Floyd Brothers, of Bridgeport, Va. She was sired by Sidney Prince, 2:21 1/4, dam Grace, by Clay, son of Walker Morrill.

The Manassas and Orange Horse Shows are both to come off this month, the dates of the former being fixed for the 24th and 25th and those of the latter for the 27th and 28th. Secretary J. Jenkins Davies, of the Manassas affair, is jubilant over the outlook for the biggest show ever held there, while L. S. Ricketts, the secretary at Orange, informed me at Fredericksburg that his association would without doubt be favored with an entry list much ahead of previous years, while the exhibits were likely to be even of a higher character. These open air horse shows are of great benefit to the horse interest in Virginia, and richly merit the liberal patronage and support that are being so freely accorded them.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED

Central Trades and Labor Council May Retain Present Officers Another Term.

NEW LODGE OF MACHINISTS

Labor Day Committee to Meet To-morrow Night—Carpenters Organize Another Local.

The meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Council on Tuesday night will be of unusual interest to members of the body.

The semi-annual election of officers will take place at this time, and while there is no talk of opposition to any of the old officers heard up to this time, there is no certainty that the situation will remain as at present. Dark horses may be sprung at the last moment, as a great many locals send new representatives at this time, and often there appears among them good timber from which to select.

The present officers of the Council are: President, John A. Byrd; Vice-President, John O. Harris; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, W. H. Mullen; Financial Secretary, Joseph Portch, and Treasurer, J. J. Powell.

Besides the election of officers, other business of interest will come up to be acted upon.

New Machinists' Lodge.

Capital City Lodge, No. 666, International Association of Machinists, was organized May 17th in Concordia Hall, and is composed entirely of railway machinists. While one of the youngest locals in the city, it is the strongest in point of membership. The charter list started with forty members, and there is now on the rolls sixty names. The lodge is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor and has representatives in the Central Trades and Labor Council.

The following are the present officers: Past president, R. S. Craig; president, H. E. Griffin; vice-president, T. E. Gadsby; recording secretary, E. R. Dowdy; financial secretary, L. J. Gore; treasurer, J. J. Coburn; conductor, L. J. Jones; inside sentinel, H. W. Anderson; trustees, T. B. Steward, for six months; T. Loser, for twelve months; T. J. Cumbea, for eighteen months.

The lodge meets on the first and third Tuesdays of each month in Concordia Hall.

The members of the lodge will have an outing to West Point next Saturday. Tickets can be had from any of the officers or members of the lodge.

Labor Day Committee.

The Labor Day Committee will meet in Carmody's Hall, No. 210 East Broad Street, to-morrow night. This committee is composed of five members from each local union in the city. At this meeting every member appointed by the locals is urged by Chairman Rudd to be present, as he wishes to get the subcommittees named and formulate plans for the celebration.

Cigarmakers Change Meeting Place.

Cigarmakers' Local, No. 133, met last Wednesday night in their new hall. For a number of years this union has been meeting in Smith's Hall, but owing to the enlargement of the building for manufacturing purposes, it became necessary to secure other quarters. The union now meets in Ellet's Hall, Fifth and Marshall Streets, every Wednesday night.

Carpenters Organize.

A new union of carpenters and joiners was organized last night in Springfield Hall, Twenty-sixth and M Streets. The union starts with a membership of about thirty, consisting mostly of men who work at the business and reside in the eastern part of the city. This makes the local union affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in this city—one in the West End, Central and East End.

May Join in Celebration.

It is not at all unlikely that the Labor Day Committee will extend an invitation to each local union in the city of Norfolk, to meet in Smith's Hall, to join the organizations of this city in celebrating Labor Day this year. Should a majority of the unions of these cities accept the invitation and visit this city it would swell the ranks and make the parade, which is proposed as a part of the day's program, one of the largest ever seen in this city.

Tailors' Picnic.

The members and their families of Tailors' Union, No. 44, celebrated the Fourth of July with an outing in Miller's Grove, in the eastern suburbs of Norfolk. The day was most pleasantly spent in the games of childhood with the little ones, and the committee on arrangements had made preparations for a spread that was thoroughly enjoyed. After dinner had been served, the present song, which was a local production, was sung. The party returned to their homes about 8 o'clock, each having spent a day that will be remembered by each one who participated.

From Newsboy to Governor.

A correspondent writing in the Typographical Journal says:

This is the story of a young man—newsboy, printer, editor and Governor, all within twenty-five years. He was early a union man, and is a union man now.

The skeleton story is submitted for the purpose of placing on the records of the city a worthy addition to the list of printer statesmen and to add to gratifying history a signal instance of timely organized aid.

Several years after the close of the war between the States, Charleston (S. C.), Typographical Union became sponsor of a small red-haired newsboy, the orphaned son of Irish immigrants. The boy was striving desperately for a living in the almost deserted city. When he drifted into the position of "devil" in the printing office, he commenced working with destiny for pronounced results.

The union secured for him a scholarship in a good school, and there he obtained his entire academic education in a short while.

His necessities were insistent, and he finished his apprenticeship. On receiving his card from his good union friends he went to Columbia, the capital of the State, to work as a job printer. In the proud State's darkest days—the era of the fight for white supremacy and the establishment of a civil government—the young man took a man's full part. When the battle was over and the people took heart, the young printer started out with $50 to go into business. Locating in a new county named for the leader in the redemption—Hampton—he soon ac-

Wood's Seeds.

Crimson Clover

Sown at the last working of the Corn or Cotton Crop, can be plowed under the following April or May in time to plant corn or other crops the same season. Crimson Clover prevents winter leaching of the soil, is equal in fertilizing value to a good application of stable manure and will wonderfully increase the yield and quality of corn or other crops which follow it. It also makes splendid winter and spring grazing, fine early green feed, or a good hay crop. Even if the crop is cut off, the action of the roots and stubble improve the land to a marked degree.
